

will not be well received by the German masses.

From other sources I learn that the Germans also offered to pay $1,000,000,000 for the release of the German prisoners of war.

Dr. Bergmann, German expert, who brought Herr Cuno's offer, and who has been in London a couple of days, has conferred with British bankers, who advised against the new German plan, for they believe such cash only could be raised on such ruinous terms as would make more difficult than ever a final German settlement.

Want America to Cancel Debts.

I learn from a high source that much of the time yesterday was spent by the conference in discussing debts to America. France, Italy, and Belgium are pressing for an appeal for forgiveness, and are asking what America would do for them, if it would do anything. Great Britain refused to be associated in any such effort.

Ambassador Fletcher left London for Brussels today. Ambassador Houghton, American envoy to Berlin, is still in London.

The members of the conference were received by King George this morning, and tonight were entertained at dinner by Lord Derby. Tomorrow Premier Mussolini will meet Italian black shirts in London in the Italian quarter.

Mussolini Demands Restraints.

Premier Mussolini gave out his own statement today through one of his entourage, in which he declared he is absolutely determined to see the question of German reparations through, and he will not be of the London conference terminating until a solution has been reached. The world, Premier Mussolini is reported as saying, is tired and weary of conference and promises who talk without results. Results must be forthcoming.

"We must not break up this conference until a definite, clear conclusion is agreed on by all the premiers," the attack said.

Premier Mussolini also declared the first two days of the conference had been devoted to an examination of the Italian proposals.

The Italian Plan.

Premier Mussolini is taking a definite line as follows:

Interim debts are to be canceled in return for reduction of German reparations, and Great Britain shall not make conditions difficult for cancelling the French and Italian debts, such as the cancellation of America of its debt. If England is willing to cancel debts on reasonable terms, Premier Mussolini is willing to do everything in his power to help Germany in its heavy task of reconstruction and to support Great Britain in such a policy. If this fails, however, France will be compelled to take drastic measures, with a view to obtaining productive guarantees, in which Italy will back France in any action it may decide.

Premier Mussolini said he wishes France to be helped both economically and politically, because in his opinion there is no nation which deserves it more, but he is equally desirous of seeing a quick solution to the present difficulties, and he is determined to do all in his power to restore the financial and economic stability of Europe.

ASKS 5 YEARS' MORATORIUM

BY LARRY RYE.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

BERLIN, Dec. 16.—A synopsis of Chancellor Cuno's German proposal to the allies concerning reparations was obtained here today. He offers the payment of 3,000,000,000 gold marks (about $150,000,000) in reparations in four years, on condition:

That the allies release German customs in the form of a mortgage.

That the allies officially declare they will not seize productive securities.

That the allies grant a five year moratorium.

Owing to the refusal of industrialists to guarantee a foreign loan, the proposals are based upon a German internal loan, obtained on a gold basis, the amount of which is not mentioned. However, Germany will pay off the loan one-half of 1 per cent yearly, with 4 per cent interest. The loan itself will be guaranteed by customs receipts.

ANCIENT SUPERSTITION

In parts of Italy, it is customary to eat beans on the anniversary of the death of a friend.

This is evidently the survival of an ancient superstition prevalent among the Romans.

They believed that beans had the power to drive away evil demons.

Well, they are driving away the little demon of hunger at CHILDS every day.

"Narrow-Heel" Shoes and Hosiery Will Make a Comfortable Xmas Gift

"Narrow-Heel" Shoes embody an entirely new principle in shoe making. You will say it is the most perfect fitting and most comfortable shoe you ever had on. It gives the arch a firm, gentle massaging support; which exercises and strengthens weakened arches. They are made with high arches and narrow heels, which prevent the foot sliding forward, therefore ample space is afforded the ball of the foot.

SUN SPOTS KEEP TEMPERATURES ABOVE NORMAL

Tribune Forecasts Hit Near 100 Per Cent.

BY SELBY MAXWELL.

On Dec. 1 The Tribune's printed a monthly weather forecast for December. There were three items in it, what the daily average temperature was to be, the daily general direction of the wind, and the appearance of the sky and air for each day.

Eleven days have now passed. A check on the prognostication as against what actually occurred reveals:

Percent.

Temperature average, correct..... 100

Air and sky, correct..... 100

Wind movements, correct..... 70

The cold snaps which occurred on the 5th, 6th, and 7th were the hardest to predict, and most of the errors occurred here. The warm drizzle which followed, and came to a maximum on the 8th ran exactly according to prediction, and scored the greatest successes.

Warmer than Normal.

The average temperature thus far in December has been mostly above normal. The highest observed was 13 degrees above normal on the 5th, and the lowest was 1.5 degrees below normal on the 6th. The highest temperature of the period was 58 on Dec. 3, and the lowest 15 degrees above zero on Dec. 10.

The sun still continues to pour out more heat than usual. On Dec. 1 the excess of temperature over normal for this year was 879 degrees. On Dec. 6 the figure had climbed to 712 degrees. We lost 7 degrees by the 10th, making the total climb ten days 24 degrees. At this time of year when the winter hemisphere of the earth is losing heat, a gain is remarkable. Violent eruptions on the sun are the cause. The earth owes its climate to solar energy. Whatever takes place on the sun profoundly affects the climate of the earth.

How Storm Was Developed.

You remember that the weather about Thanksgiving was warm and wet. The center of the humid belt lay 200 miles north of Chicago. Damp winds from the states around drained in toward the great lakes, creating a condition there as unstable as a layer of oil under water would be. On the night of Sunday before last, Dec. 3, the hot air burst upward, sending the strata above to fragments. Rain poured down, the wind rose to a hurricane, and vessels were damaged all over the great lakes. The gale blew with all its might toward Lake Superior, then rose and poured up and out at the top of the storm.

Such violent atmospheric displacements could not help but create a reaction somewhere else. Cold winds were forced earthward over Montana. They were the exact counterpart of the gale in violence, but instead of blowing inward they blew out. They spread far and wide over the country, sending the mercury dropping wherever they touched.

A storm from Seattle followed close

On the heels of the blizzard. The rain caught up with the blizzard at Chicago, and for a few hours on the morning of the 8th there was sleet as icy as any could wish.

This Week's Weather.

The weather for this week is to continue without much change from what happened last week. No gales nor violent storms seem near. There will be fluctuations of temperature of about 25 degrees on an average over periods of one day and 20 hours.

Here is a table of highest and lowest temperature averages which we may expect:

Date	Highest	Lowest
Dec. 12	31	17
13	31	17
14	31	17
15	31	17
16	31	17
17	31	17
18	31	17
19	31	17
20	31	17

After this week the weather is due to be warmer.

"TIGER" TO SPEAK TO GATHERING OF FARMERS TODAY

Second Visit to Consume About Three Hours.

George Clemenceau, "Tiger" of France, will return to Chicago for three hours today to address a meeting of the American Farm Bureau federation, which, in honor of the speaker, selected the "Tiger room" at Hotel Sherman as convention headquarters.

The war premier is due to arrive at 12:30 o'clock this morning, to speak at 12:35, and to leave for New York at 12:40. The subject of his address will be "The Farmer as a World Citizen."

Clemenceau began his trip to Chicago last night, refreshed by a day spent at Cresson, in the Allegheny mountains, during which he took two brisk walks along the Lincoln highway with Bernard M. Baruch and Col. Stephen Bonal, members of his party.

Talks on Lloyd George's Statement.

In his private car last night M. Clemenceau discussed with newspaper men a recent statement, by Lloyd George touching upon the charge that France had made secret efforts to obtain the left bank of the Rhine. He said:

"I know of no party in France wishing to annex any German territory. We never claimed German territory, and that shows we never meant to. I have no means of knowing whether the terms of the guarantee offered Premier Briand and Poincare were satisfactory, since I have never seen them."

"Do you think a guarantee offered by Bonar Law would be similar to one offered by Lloyd George? Certainly not."

Will Speak for Half Hour.

M. Clemenceau's address before the farmers will deal mostly with foreign markets. Delegates from all parts of the United States will be present, representing organizations of many thousands. He is scheduled to talk for about thirty minutes.

The All-American National Council of Illinois yesterday adopted resolutions protesting against what it termed the "discourteous conduct" of the "Tiger" and his "efforts to embolli the United States in matters wherein it is not interested."

HIS CRIME WAVE CAUGHT HIM IN THE UNDERTOW

Frank Burns, late of Pittsburgh, tried to start a crime wave all his own in front of 208 East Chestnut street last night. He placed one pistol against the heart of Charles T. Nelson, 1516 Clybourn avenue, another he pointed at Mr. Nelson's head. And he shouted "Hands up!"

He shouted so lustily that Sergeant Austin Carson and Policemen Martinson, Cohen, and McHenry, "pulling a box" across the street, listened in. A minute later Mr. Burns faced so many guns he imagined he had run into the U. S. Army. His crime wave was a fizzle.

After this week the weather is due to be warmer.

QUAKE IN JAPAN KILLS 22 DURING 30 HOUR SHOCKS

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

TOKIO, Dec. 10.—Commencing Wednesday, an earthquake of thirty hours' duration rocked the island of Kyushu, whereof Nagasaki is the center. Many buildings and bridges were destroyed and twenty-two deaths are reported. Aomori and Hakodate were shaken. An eruption of Onosandake, the highest peak on the island, is feared. Kagoshima and Fukuoka also were badly shaken. The volcanoes on Mount Aso are in eruption.

ORDER TEST TO CLEAR SLEEPING SICKNESS DEATH

So. Side Woman Dies; Disagree on Cause.

A brain analysis was ordered by the coroner's office yesterday in the case of Mrs. Josephine Dumker, 7128 Ridgeland avenue, following announcement by Dr. Julius Grinker, 5136 Ellis avenue, a nerve specialist, that in his opinion the woman had succumbed to an attack of sleeping sickness.

In making his announcement Dr. Grinker added that more than 100 cases of sleeping sickness had been fatal in Chicago in the last two years.

Following a post-mortem examination at which Dr. Joseph Springer, coroner's physician, was also present, Dr. Grinker said many symptoms of sleeping sickness were present. He removed portions of the brain for a further test.

Four Teeth Previously Extracted.

Mrs. Dumker, who was the wife of Ferdinand Dumker, an employe of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company, was in perfect health, it was said, up to Nov. 17, when, with the aid of laughing gas, she had four teeth extracted by Dr. George H. Mitchell, 7042 Stony Island avenue.

Several days later, according to Dumker, his wife became drowsy and appeared to lose interest in her surroundings.

"I don't think administering of the gas superinduced her condition. That was merely a coincidence," said Dr. Grinker. "The deadly sleep-like condition producing 'sleeping sickness' was no doubt already present."

Diagnosis of Gas Effect.

Dr. Springer, however, pointed out that Mrs. Dumker never fully rallied from the gas effects, and declared he

POLICEMAN NABS BROTHER-IN-LAW FOR SHOOTING

Ferdinand Schumaker, 28 years old, a boilermaker, was shot and seriously wounded last night in a brawl between three men in the saloon of Patrick Shields, 2801 West Grand avenue.

Sergeant Frank Walsh was the first policeman to reach the scene of the shooting. He rushed into the saloon, saw Schumaker on the floor and a man crouching behind an icebox. "Come out of there or I'll shoot," he ordered and leveled his pistol at the hiding figure. The man obeyed.

It was Walsh's brother-in-law, Barney Burns of 1941 West Ohio street. Later Schumaker identified Burns as his assailant. Burns claimed he shot in self-defense. Walsh placed his kinsman in custody.

believed this largely responsible for the state of inertia preceding death. "Sleeping sickness," as such, was first described by a Viennese physician in 1917. One theory is that the disease results when a certain germ lodges itself in the brain-stem or ganglia, rendering motive power inert.

WILBO HUNTED AS GIRL'S WITNESS IN $100,000 SUIT

Miss Birkhead Says He Knows of Seduction.

Oxford, Miss., Dec. 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—Oxford rested today for a strenuous week with the all-absorbing question as to whether Theodore G. Wilbo, former governor, would be on hand tomorrow in time to testify in the $100,000 damage suit of Miss Frances C. Birkhead, stenographer, against Lee M. Russell, present state executive.

Mr. Wilbo, summoned by the plaintiff, was among the absentees when the witness roll was called, and a court order was issued directing the United States marshal to locate him and bring him to court. So far as has been ascertained here, the court order has not been yet served. Word from Poplarville, his home, was that Mr. Wilbo left for an automobile trip before the arrival of the deputy marshal.

Trial Is Suspended.

The trial of the suit was suspended yesterday afternoon until tomorrow to allow more time to locate Mr. Wilbo.

Mr. Wilbo was governor and Mr. Russell was lieutenant governor at the time of the alleged incidents on which Miss Birkhead based her plea for damages. A charge of seduction and other allegations.

Mr. Will Perry, a member of Gov. Russell's staff, also is among the witnesses whose testimony is wanted by the plaintiff. It was explained in court by attorneys for Mr. Russell that Mr. Perry was detained by illness of a member of his family.

The testimony of these witnesses and the presentation of a hotel register as documentary evidence was expected to conclude the rebuttal evidence for the plaintiff and bring the trial to its final stage—argument and submission of the issue to the jury.

Case May Close Today.

In the event neither of the witnesses answers to his name tomorrow, it is expected the case will be closed at the morning session of the court and argument begun.

Mr. Wilbo and Mr. Perry are alleged by the plaintiff to have an intimate knowledge of the circumstances which followed the incidents alleged in the petition for redress, and of negotiations which, she asserts, friends of the governor undertook.

The trial, which began last Monday, has developed much directly contradictory testimony. Gov. Russell denied the allegations categorically, while Miss Birkhead reiterated them in detail when the two appeared on the witness stand.

Testimony of witnesses for the plaintiff Miss Birkhead, a reputation of the best prior to the incidents she alleged.

Spicy Past Is Alleged.

Testimony of witnesses for the defendant alleged various alleged incidents, ranging from riding a horse astride and playing "rag time" music on a piano organ to more serious misconduct.

Mr. Russell, wife of the governor, testified as did the governor—that she and Mr. Russell were "an outstanding example" of a happy couple and in denial that a divorce or separation ever was contemplated.

Miss Birkhead charged the governor had told her he was obtaining a divorce. Mrs. Russell declared this was without foundation.

One of the most sensational incidents ever fought out in a Mississippi court was nearing its end tonight, with both sides expressing satisfaction with the situation.

Picayune, Miss., Dec. 10.—It was reported here that Theodore G. Wilbo, former governor of Mississippi, against whom a court order was issued to appear at Oxford to testify in the $100,000 damage suit of Miss Frances Birkhead against Gov. Lee M. Russell, passed through Picayune about 4 o'clock this afternoon.

It was said by those who talked with Mr. Wilbo that he would give out no information and refused to say where he was bound for or if he intended going to Oxford.

Picayune is twenty-five miles south of Poplarville, Mr. Wilbo's home.

BANK'S $38,000 SHORTAGE LAID TO OUTSIDE CONCERN

In the belief that most of the $38,000 shortage in the International State bank, 704 West Roosevelt road, was dissipated in attempting to put the Russian-American bureau on its feet, the state's attorney's office yesterday announced that complete investigation of the bureau and its activities would take place.

Detectives spent the day in a hunt for Eugene Braslawsky, president of the bank and secretary of the bureau, but were unable to locate him. Mrs. Braslawsky said she was still confident he would put in his appearance today with enough money to reimburse depositors.

Further investigation of both institutions by State Bank Examiner H. S. Savage and Assistant State's Attorney John Sbarbaro revealed a close interlocking between the bank and the bureau, according to statements by the two officials. The bureau has maintained an office in the bank building, where it has done business in foreign exchange and in bringing relatives of its foreign clients from Europe to America at so much per head. Vladimir Braslawsky, a brother of the missing bank president, is head of the bureau.

Vote YES and Illinois will have the best Constitution in the Union—WALTER H. WILSON.

Youth Is Wounded as He Tries to Burglarize House

REBEL FIREBUGS ATTACK IRISH LEADERS' HOMES

Bomb Dublin Shop Owned by Woman Senator.

DUBLIN, Dec. 10.—(By Associated Press.)—The opponents of the Irish government resumed their vigilante attacks with bombs and machine guns on the residence of J. J. Walsh, politician, general, and others identified with the government. The Walsh residence was not badly damaged.

A bomb thrown into the shop of the Irish Produce company, owned by Mrs. Wm. Power, recently nominated by President Cosgrave as senator, set it afire. The house of John McGarry, Dublin member of the parliament, came in for special attention of the incendiaries, and his wife and two children were slightly burned.

The residence of Postmaster Walsh's secretary, O'Hegarty, was raided by an armed band. Gasoline was sprinkled about the house and the furniture and other belongings set afire.

HOW O'CONNOR DIED

BY THOMAS STAN.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.) DUBLIN, Dec. 10.—THE TRIBUNE learns that Rory O'Connor's last words were prayers. While walking from his cell to the place of execution Mr. O'Connor prayed fervently. This was not expected from Mr. O'Connor, who was little given to religious exercises.

The four men were blindfolded and faced the firing squad together. The firing squad numbered twenty-four. Death came immediately to all. The bodies were hastily buried five yards away from where they were executed. Only officers, the squad, and three priests saw the condemned men fall.

Tragedy of Brothers.

Kevin O'Higgins, minister of home affairs, made a spirited defense of the executions before the Dail Eireann on Friday. When Mr. O'Higgins was married a year ago Mr. O'Connor was best man and Eamon de Valera was one of the guests.

Mr. O'Connor wrote letters to his family after receiving the notification that he was to be executed. One letter of six lines contained the sentence, "I forgive all my former comrades." The letter, which came through prison authorities, was not censored.

Mr. O'Connor's family requested his body, but was refused.

SIX MEN INJURED WHEN TWO AUTOS COLLIDE IN LOOP

One man was seriously injured and five others slightly hurt in a collision of two Ford cars at Dearborn and Randolph streets, late last night. Felix Callum, 18 years old, a salesman living at the Sherman hotel, was the one most severely hurt. He is in the St. Luke's hospital with a skull fracture.

Callum was in a car with three others, Wendell E. Parrott, South Bend; Edwin Haas, Mishawaka, and K. Wolfe, South Bend. Their auto was struck by one in which Harry G. Pappas, 1427 Marquette road, and Peter Bennekas, 143 Eugene street, were returning from a hunting trip to Lamont, Ill. Pappas, Bennekas, and Parrott were held.

3 PLANES CRASH WHILE HUNTING 2 MISSING FLYERS

Indian Runners May Help Comb Plains.

El Paso, Tex., Dec. 10.—Two of the five airplanes which left San Antonio today to join the search for Col. F. P. Marshall and Lieut. C. L. Webber, lost in Arizona, made forced landings while en route to El Paso, but none of the occupants of the planes was injured.

The plane piloted by Lieut. Westside T. Larson was the first to go down, according to the report. It fell near Medina Lake, forty miles west of San Antonio, while the plane piloted by Capt. W. T. Hayes went down near San Antonio, Tex. News of the accidents was received in a message from Capt. Hayes to army officers here.

Message from Aviator.

The message said: "Crashed at San Antonio and another ship went down at Medina Lake. Carry on."

The other three planes, piloted by Lieut. R. H. Clark, R. L. Wheeler and E. J. Baker, arrived safely tonight.

One of the airplanes detailed to Tucson from Fort Bliss arrived at San Miguel, west of Nogales, today and was slightly damaged in making a landing. The occupants of the machine, however, escaped uninjured. It was necessary to leave the plane at San Miguel.

Authorities at Nogales, Ariz., tonight directed their search for the two missing aviators to the territory between Bisbee, Ariz., and Rodeo, N.M., following a report by a motorist that he had seen two men dressed in army uniforms, answering the aviators' descriptions near Bisbee last Thursday night.

Move Base of Searchers.

Reports that an airplane was seen last Thursday passing over Ruby and San Miguel earlier today caused Capt. R. G. Irwin, commander of five planes which left Tucson to search for Col. Marshall and Lieut. Webber, to move the base of the search in Arizona from Tucson to Nogales.

Maj. Gen. Ed M. Lewis, eighth corps area commander at San Antonio, Tex., has requested the governor of Arizona to send out Indian runners from the reservations, a detail of national guard, and have the civilian population in Pima and Maricopa counties cooperate in the search for the two aviators.

Negro Is Killed, Woman Wounded After Altercation

Edward Smith, colored, 5313 West Grand avenue, was shot and killed late last night by William Mosley, colored, 3320 Calumet avenue, after Smith had shot Mosley's wife, Gladys, in the shoulder. Smith had gone to the Mosley home to ask the whereabouts of his wife. When Mrs. Mosley refused to talk he fired. Mosley wrested the revolver from Smith and fired one shot, instantly killing him.

GIRL, 11, OFFERS $100 REWARD FOR MISSING MOTHER

Kin Tell of Suitor's Threats to Kill.

(Picture on back page.) All efforts of police to find her mother, Mrs. Kate Mitchell, 33 years old, who disappeared mysteriously on Dec. 2, having proved futile, 11 year old Elsie Mitchell last night offered a reward of $100 for return of her parent, whether alive or dead.

With the announcement of the reward, to be paid out of the little girl's own savings, relatives of the missing woman told of persecutions by a rejected suitor.

Tells of Suitor's Threats. According to Mrs. Fred Koste, 4219 Union avenue, sister of Mrs. Mitchell, with whom the missing woman made her home, ten witnesses can be produced who have heard this suitor swear he would kill Mrs. Mitchell unless she married him. This statement was corroborated by another sister, Mrs. Harry Crane.

Mrs. Mitchell formerly lived at 4336 Troy street, but moved because the suitor insisted upon forcing his attentions upon her, Mrs. Koste declared. In June, 1921, while she lived at the Troy street address, her sister said, the man battered down the door with an ax and attempted to kill Mrs. Mitchell, firing eleven shots from a revolver.

The man is said to have stolen Mrs. Mitchell's pocketbook on a number of occasions, and once took from her the keys to the Western Union office at 46th street and Grand boulevard, of which she was manager. He has been arrested five times on complaints by Mrs. Mitchell.

Had Rings Worth $1,000. At the time of her disappearance Mrs. Mitchell wore three diamond rings, valued at about $1,000, which at first led to the theory that she had been robbed. The suitor was arrested last week, but was released after being questioned.

TURKS' NEW CAPITAL

1—The Turks have definitely decided to abandon Constantinople as their capital, and make Ankara the seat of government. They do this principally because of the inaccessibility of the latter place.

2—Smyrna, Bursa, Constantinople, and Eski Shehr were all rejected in favor of Ankara, because all of them are open to attack from the sea.

3—Turkish irregulars are reported to have rioted and burned the railroad station at Dedesatch, in western Thrace.

INTO CELL FROM BRIDAL COUCH IN ONE GIDDY NIGHT

Jewel Is Touchstone for Trouble.

Holding his aching head in his hands, Albert Granger, 31 years old, 437 North Dearborn street, sat in his cell at Evanston yesterday trying to remember whom he had married, where he had married her and why on earth he had done "the darn thing."

Early on Saturday Granger had received from his employer, L. E. Wilson, a contractor, of 270 Mary street, Glenview, $117.19 to pay the workmen engaged on the job at 2700 Eastwood avenue, Evanston.

But the idea of wasting the money on a lot of ordinary bricklayers and carpenters did not appeal to him and, putting on his coat, he set off for Chicago and its allurements.

The allurements included pretty 22 year old Carol E. King, 2734 Hampden court, a hat checker engaged at the Derby cafe, Buren and Clark streets. She proved irresistible to the susceptible Albert and his apparent wealth.

equally irresistible to her. Albert was a quick worker and before Carol had time to change her mind, he had taken her to the marriage bureau and they were man and wife. Albert sealing the bargain with a platinum and diamond ring which cost him $250.

It was the ring that proved Albert's undoing. Carol could not rest in her bridal suite at the Port Dearborn hotel until she had shown her new ring to her friends at the cabaret, so in spite of Albert's protests, it was there they went and there they were discovered by detectives who were put to the trail by Albert's employer, after he been contacted by a mob of wretched workmen.

By then Albert's celebrations had reached an advanced stage, and they took him to a nice, cool cell at Evanston to wait down and await the issue of a warrant.

SEVEN CARS STOLEN; 15 RECOVERED. Seven automobiles were reported stolen to the police during the twenty-four hours ending at 4 A. M. yesterday. Fifteen were recovered.

CONSTANTINOPLE TO LOSE GLORY AS TURK CAPITAL

Dingy Angora, Safe from Guns, to Win Honor.

LAUSANNE, Dec. 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—Constantinople has probably ceased to be Turkey's capital for all time; it remains the seat of the caliphate and the religious center of Turkey and the Moslem world, but the Turkish delegates at Lausanne say that Mustafa Kemal Pasha and his helpers in the construction of a nationalist Turkey have no thought of re-establishing Turkey's political heart within range of foreign warships which may enter the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus.

After centuries of world importance as the capital of the Byzantine and Ottoman empires, Constantinople will be relegated to a place of secondary importance, as Petrograd has given way to Moscow. Angora has proved a safe refuge for Mustafa Kemal's national assembly, just as Moscow afforded the soviet government protection from the encroaching German army and the allied warships, and it will probably become the permanent capital.

Several Cities Candidates. The national assembly at Angora has discussed the advisability of moving to various other places in Anatolia, but Angora always defeated all other rival applicants. Smyrna cannot be considered because of the danger of sea attack.

Eski-Shehr and Asim-Karahisar have been rejected because both were seized by the Greeks and are regarded as too accessible to invading armies. Bursa, Turkey's ancient capital and the burial place of many famous sultans, has also been rejected because within range of great guns on the Bosporus.

Tough on Diplomats.

The permanent location of the Turkish capital at Angora will be a blow to the United States and other nations which have fine embassies in Pera, the foreign section of Constantinople, overlooking the Bosphorus and the Golden Horn. Life will be dull at Angora for the foreign diplomats, accustomed to the social brilliancy which the sultan's court and the majesty of many nations imparted to diplomatic activities of the old capital.

Angora is a dreary interior Turkish town of about twenty thousand population. It is situated in a great castle and sheep country, 200 miles east of Constantinople on a branch railroad and 200 miles south of the Black sea, without any connection with the sea by railroad and with the highway closed half the year. It is scattered about among the ruins of Roman walls and is rich in fragments of Greek and Roman sculpture which the government is assembling preparatory to creating a museum.

WATCH LONDON, PARLEY

BY HENRY WALLER.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

(Copyright, 1923, By The Chicago Tribune.)

LAUSANNE, Dec. 10.—The Turkish and Russian delegates to the Lausanne conference are watching the London conference closely, looking for a split among the allies on the reparations problem, which might be reflected in discord in the near east policy. Reports received here from London by telephone today that Prime Minister Bonar Law, Premier Muncie, and Premier Polignac are divided on the policy toward Germany were keenly discussed in Russian and Turkish circles.

Ismet Pasha called on M. Tschirker this morning, but no inkling of the result of their conversation was obtained. It was the first personal contact between the heads of the delegations since the Turks let down the blockade by accepting many of the allies' suggestions for control of the Dardanelles.

Pending developments in the London conference the near east parity is marking time. None of the three main committees will meet tomorrow. M. Tschirker has drafted a new protest to the conference, reiterating his demand that the soviet representatives be permitted to participate in the expert meeting on the control of the straits and threatening that Russia will not recognize any decision reached in their absence.

British Recognize Caliph.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—Lieut. Gen. Sir Charles Harington, commander of the British forces in Turkey, had a two hours' conversation Saturday afternoon with the caliph. Gen. Harington is understood to have informed the caliph that the Moslems of the British empire had recognized him, and that therefore the British government desired to establish formal relations.

WIND CLOUD OF WEDDLING LAWS MARY SEES DAWN

Prosperity Next Year, He Declares, if—

New York, Dec. 10.—(Special.)—His practice of years, Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors of American business conditions for the next twelve months, looking backward twenty years, however, he believes, is bound to be the upward trend; but "if we do have prosperity this year it will be the result of agitation and laws, no matter what their altruistic guise, which are directed against the general well-being of the nation's business, he concludes that the present burden of taxation, but to add more taxes would be to "put the future in doubt."

Against Special Privilege.
Mr. Gary regarded it as "unthinkable" that America should evolve any kind of "aristocracy of special privilege," declaring that "equality before the law is fundamental to industry and prosperity." Essential also to the nation's business, he concludes, is an adequate knowledge by the general public of all the facts in industrial disputes.

The grave strikes of recent months which would have been impossible for the public to know all the facts, he believes, is entitled to the "public opinion, he believes, is the surest and wisest of all regulators of industry and labor."

We are carrying a heavy governmental financial burden, Mr. Gary said in an article in current System, "which will not soon be fully discharged. We must reckon for some time to come on taxes that will be a heavy burden to bear. Substantial additions to the present burden of taxation might be crushing."

"Hanging Realities Burden."
"This is realized by the President and his associates, and they are able to do something to lighten the load. But it is a heavy part at least of the cost of the war is paid, no amount of governmental economy can reduce taxes to a point where they will not have to be reckoned with. Industry believes that it can function under a heavier burden, but if new weights are added through oppressive laws, the future is in doubt."

Mr. Gary said that "other than good business, no other natural economic resource is not interfered with. The danger to the consistent and development of the country is the possibility that attempts may be made to substitute unwise and excessive vicious laws of man for the law of nature, thereby interrupting the movement of supply and demand."

of Industrial Blackmail.
"It is unthinkable," Mr. Gary said, "that we should rear in industry any aristocracy of special privilege, whether that aristocracy be made up of those who sell the use of their hands, their brains, or their money."

He is strongly opposed to special privileges of any kind. The progress of property of no nation can long be maintained if any factor in economic life is especially favored or punished.

Equality before the law is fundamental to industrial peace and progress. Yet the disposition seems to be to pass laws which in a degree exclude labor organizations and farmer organizations from governmental supervision, and to restrict the rights of citizens. Not only are they excluded from certain restrictive provisions of the existing statutes, but they are affirmatively permitted to do things which are prohibited to other citizens."

DETOURS ON WAY TO BEAUTY TOLD BY WIFE'S RIVAL

Corliss Palmer Tells Charm Secrets.

New York, Dec. 10.—Secrets of pulchritude dispensed by Corliss Palmer, beauty contest winner and admitted admirer of Eugene O'Neill, are expected to figure in the trial of the suit brought by Mrs. Brewster against the millionaire movie magazine publisher. Miss Palmer's name is used as the author of a beauty column appearing as often as one of Brewster's magazines comes from the presses. While she has denied in the public prints that she "vamped" Mr. Brewster, whose wife is suing him for separation and alimony, it appears from Miss Palmer's articles she has given great study to the art of feminine attractiveness.

Here are some excerpts from her column advising how to increase feminine charm:
With beauty, everything else comes easy.
There is no doubt in my mind that Eve ate the forbidden fruit because she had read in the beauty column of the Eden Fig Leaf that apples were good for the complexion.

The Irresistible Trinity.
Beauty makes charm and winsomeness, and with this trinity generally goes the winning of a good husband and home and, more important still, the keeping of them.

If it weren't for the men, I fear we women would not be trying so hard to be beautiful.
Discard the old fashioned notion that you should not use powder, rouge, lip salve, etc. It's the modern idea. Everybody's doing it.

Don't forget that beauty is a power. There is nothing more potent. It is to a woman what capital is to a merchant. Its absence is a misfortune, its culture wise and proper.

There is something about soft red lips guarding pearly gates that suggests the kiss.
A pretty mouth and velvety lips carry the mind to the land of romance and love.
The lips are love's delicious weapons of attraction as well as her seal of approval.

Making Pa Help a Little.
If Mother Nature has not bestowed upon a woman the priceless gift of beauty, she must seek Father Art.
Spanish beauties squeeze a bit of fresh orange peel before their eyes just before going to a function, to give them brilliancy.

Personally I prefer the warm bath at night and the cold sponge in the morning.
I am afraid that smoking is not the best thing for the skin.

5 LADS MISSING; BELIEVED BOUND FOR SOUTHLAND

Police yesterday began search for five youthful adventurers, who, their parents fear, are journeying feverishly southward in quest of fame and fortune.

William H. Suchter Jr., 4832 Sheridan road, 14 year old son of a wealthy loop confectioner, is said to be leader of the band, which includes Harvey Pastor, 15; Jack Seelye, 15; William Phelps, 14, and "Gunner" Lindgren, 15. All are students at a north side high school.

Absence of the quintet was revealed when they failed to appear at their breakfast tables. A hasty investigation showed the absence of one driver and five savings accounts. Further inquiry disclosed an avowed determination to "go south for the winter."

Invades Flat, Shoots

Man as Kin Look On

Summoned by neighbors who heard shots, policemen of the West Chicago avenue station found John Mowenski probably fatally wounded last night, as the result of a quarrel with a man in Mowenski's flat, on the fourth floor of 854 West Erie street. Mowenski's wife, son, and cousin were in the room.

Can Your Merchandising Methods Be Improved?

"Simplification of a line and concentration of manufacture upon a few items sometimes mark the difference between mediocre and striking success. At other times, a change in avenue of distribution, the discovery of new and untapped markets, or the establishment of resale prices may be the key to greater business."

In this paragraph No. 42 from our booklet, "48 Ideas on Advertising and Merchandising," is summed up our belief that the merchandising methods of every going business may require revision at times. When to authorize the change is a matter that calls for tested judgment.

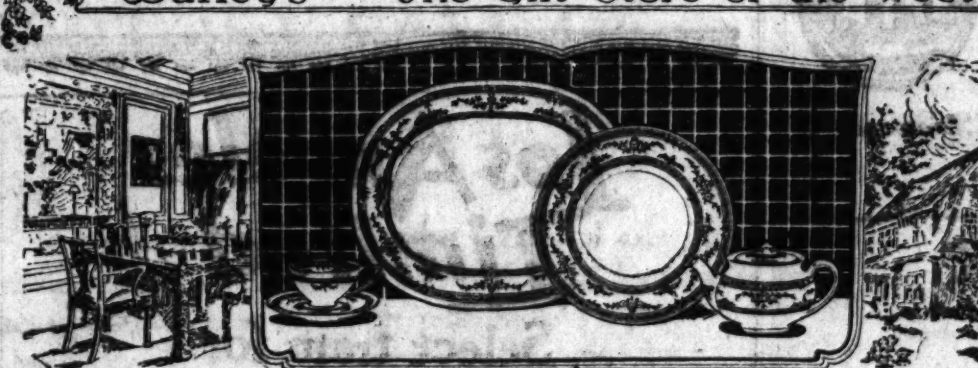

The 18 years' experience of this complete advertising agency organization—gained in contact with many foremost American businesses—will prove particularly interesting to executives who are considering 1923 merchandising plans. Our viewpoints are expressed in the helpful book, referred to above. It will be sent free upon request.

SEE BEAUTY FLEE AS MAN DIES IN DARK HALL ROOM

Mystery surrounds the death of Joseph E. Wallace, 46 years old, formerly owner of a toy balloon business at 1550 Larabee street, who was found dead in a dark hall bedroom in a rooming house at 946 North La Salle street yesterday afternoon. A hypodermic needle and a few grains of morphine were on a table nearby.

Police of the Chicago avenue station immediately started search for a pretty young woman with black hair who was said to have been in the company of Wallace a few hours before he died and who was seen leaving the building early yesterday morning.

According to Mrs. Anselmen Fox, owner of the rooming house, who found the body when she went to awaken Wallace shortly after noon, the mysterious woman came to the place with Wallace last Saturday afternoon and was introduced as "Mrs. Wallace."

Among Wallace's effects the police found a $1000 insurance policy for $1,000 made out in favor of "Mrs. May Frank Wallace."

Lieut. John Prendergast stated that he remembered a woman giving the name of May Wallace who was arrested by federal narcotic officers several months ago on a charge of selling dope. He immediately ordered his men to canvass the haunts of "dope bands" along North Clark street in search of the woman.

According to information obtained from friends of Wallace, he has been working as a cigar clerk on East Pearson street since his toy balloon business was closed.

Coroner's Physician W. H. Burnmeister performed an autopsy on the body and sent the contents of the stomach to the city laboratory to be analyzed. He refused to give a possible reason for the cause of death.

Two pennies were found in the dead man's pocket. According to a number of persons who knew the man, he usually carried large sums of money.

SCOTLAND YARD CHIEF HERE FLAYS PISTOL TOTING

Armed Criminals Rare in England, He Says.

To the "brothers" of the underworld: Lie low! England's most famous sleuth and thief catcher is here.

Sir Basil Thomson, former chief of Scotland Yard, arrived in Chicago last night and registered at the Hotel Le Salle. He will depart this morning.

The great criminologist is a very ordinary looking person, short, with well knit frame. There is a striking resemblance between him and Horace Elliott, a famous Chicago sleuth of bygone days.

Sir Basil does not look to be more than 55 years of age, but he is past 60. His hair, which is thin on top, is iron gray. He wears a mustache, closely cropped, and his blue eyes beam kindly.

Takes Reporters on Fly.

Sir Basil is not the kind of an Englishman who has to have his "tub" before submitting to a newspaper interview. The reporter caught him in his room ten minutes after he arrived at the hotel.

"My goodness," exclaimed the American visitor, "but you newspaper boys are on the job. But come in!"

In answer to what was the purpose of his visit, Sir Basil replied that he was on a lecture tour, dealing with his war experiences and other matters pertaining to English police methods.

"I was at the head of Scotland Yard eight years," he said, "and retired about a year ago."

London, with a population of 8,000,000, is policed by 19,000 men, he said. "About 700 of this number are members of Scotland Yard. Not all of them, however, are detailed on 'ordinary crime.' One hundred and fifty picked men are detailed to protect ministers and other leaders of the government.

Finds New York Underpoliced.

New York, which city he first visited, was underpoliced in his opinion. Not having talked with any Chicago police official he was unable to express an opinion regarding this city.

"Large American cities," he said, "require a greater number of policemen than do cities in Europe. In England we have what is known as the 'pistol act.' No one, without permission from the government, is permitted to carry firearms. For this reason we very seldom have a crime committed with a pistol. Even our police-men in London do not carry firearms. Sometimes, if a squad of Scotland Yard men are going out to arrest a desperate criminal, they go armed, but at all other times they carry no weapons.

"The great majority of people in England have a wholesome respect for the law. It has been so long since we had a highway robbery in London accompanied by the use of firearms that I have forgotten. Of course we have automobile thieves there, the same as you have in Chicago, but the English auto bandit does not carry a pistol. It means life imprisonment if he is caught.

"It is a crime for a person to sell a gun in London unless the purchaser has a license. There are too many loopholes in the American laws for criminals to escape after their arrest and conviction. One who is charged with a serious crime in England cannot give bail.

"If he is convicted he goes to prison and serves his sentence. In America there is no certainty of his going to prison, even if the court says he is guilty."

Recalls "Chicago May."

Sir Basil was asked if he ever met Eddie Guerin, a Chicago criminal who,

HAPPY DAYS

"I Hear You Calling Me."

The words of the song, sung by Miss Gladys Beardmore, known on the stage as Jean Gibson, have a peculiar significance for A. J. Prignano, secretary to Dennis J. Egan, bailiff of the Municipal court.

He was captivated by her voice and secured an introduction. Friday night they were married and left for Chicago City, Ia., the home of the bride, on their honeymoon.

since his escape from Devils Isle, has lived in London.

"O, yes," he replied. "I know Eddie quite well, but I have not seen him in recent years. I remember when he was shot by Smith, who attempted to kill him in a jealous rage. The Churchill woman, known as Chicago May, was at the bottom of it. The last time I saw 'Chicago May' she was working on a rope walk in the prison where she was confined for her part in the shooting of Guerin. She was trying to reduce herself. You would scarcely know her. She has grown fat. They say she was once a very beautiful woman."

LONG DRY SPELL AHEAD FOR WETS AND DEMI-WETS

efficient part of the enforcement of the law?" asked Chairman Madden (Rep., Ill.).

"I do, sir," replied Mr. Haynes, "but I am willing to admit that there may be some difference of opinion on that score. That information department has been created in the utmost sincerity and with the conviction that it is one of the important features of our enforcement work. There is no department of the government about which there has been so much misinformation promulgated.

"There are evidences on all sides, and have been ever since prohibition became operative, of a tremendous propaganda to make ineffective the enforcement work and to discredit the service. It occurred to me that one of the vital elements entering into the success of our work in its administration was to let the people know the facts in regard to what we were doing and as to what it is our ambition to accomplish.

Why Publicity Is Necessary.

"That in my judgment is absolutely essential in order to offset the tremendous force of the anti-enforcement propaganda which appears daily, and of which we are all cognizant. We all know that a discredited service cannot be a successful service, and we all know that there has been a tremendous effort to discredit prohibition enforcement ever since the law became operative.

"I receive literally hundreds of invitations from all kinds of patriotic and high grade organizations to tell the people what we are doing and what we are accomplishing and what we want in the way of cooperation. The citizenship of this country wants to cooperate. The question was never of greater interest among the people. I think that it is the most discussed topic before the country today, generally speaking. Of course, it is physically impossible for me to do all these things.

Accepts Invitations to Speak.

"I do accept some invitations to speak, and I think that I never do it unless I accomplish something for the government and something in the interest of this work."

The government pays his railroad fare and $4 per diem expenses on these trips.

The enforcement appropriation rose from $2,000,000 in 1919 to $3,250,000 for this fiscal year, and $3,000,000 is asked for next year.

The number of convictions last year was 29,431; acquittals, 4,825; cases dropped, 5,217, with 15,000 cases still pending. Since July 1 last, 44,000 cases have arisen.

During the last fiscal year fines and forfeitures totalling $2,791,565 were collected. Such penalties assessed by the prohibition unit and outstanding July 1, 1921, totaled $49,764,717, and on July 1, 1922, $69,981,244, while uncollectible claims amounted to $24,548,216, and compromises accepted and paid, $1,732,622.

ADMITTS HE SENT LOVE LETTERS TO MORGAN'S WIDOW

Mendell Denies Any Part in Husband's Death.

Day City, Mich., Dec. 10.—(Special.) "Dear Husband," was the salutation used by Mrs. Selma Morgan of Chicago, N. M., in addressing Mendell Mendell, charged with slaying her husband, Rollin H. Morgan, according to alleged admissions by Mendell Sunday. The missives, Mendell was quoted as saying, were "real love letters" and were signed "your loving wife."

Mendell admitted Sunday, authorities said, that he had addressed the letters to his friend as "his dear wife." Despite the alleged admission, Mendell insisted, it is said, his love for Mrs. Morgan was of the highest order. "I loved her too much to break up or to share the sanctity of her home," he was quoted as saying.

Hoped to Wed Some Day.
"The reason I addressed her that way and she addressed me that way," he was quoted in referring to the letters, "was because we hoped and expected that some day we would be man and wife. Mind you, that does not mean that I ever thought of divorcing my wife, but I thought if she should die, we then would have our opportunity. I never would desert my wife."

"Mrs. Morgan had children," Mendell's statement is said to have quoted, "and we had none. I wanted a baby badly, believing children would have cemented close ties between us and we never have drifted apart. At least I thought I would have experienced real love for my wife, which I never have."

Prosecutor Not Satisfied.

Prosecuting Attorney Gilbert W. Reed expects to break down Mendell's story in the manner in which Morgan's death, supposedly by drowning in the Kawakawin river, near the Bay Shore cabin, Aug. 9.

Witnesses differ as to the positions of the two men at the time of the tragedy and other incidents surrounding the fatality.

Mendell spent Sunday alone in his cell, except for a few short visits from his wife. He is in the women's department, there being no women now in jail. His arraignment probably will be held until Tuesday.

POLICE BREAK UP CROWDED SEANCE, ARREST PSYCHIC

In the midst of a seance before an audience of 400 persons in Corinthian hall in the Capitol building, formerly the Masonic temple, Mrs. Elizabeth Allen Tomson, who terms herself a psychic, and her husband, Dr. Clarence Tomson, 5083 Jackson boulevard, were arrested last night by Detective Sergeant Thieling, Donohue, and McCormick of the detective bureau.

Warrants charging them with disorderly conduct were issued on complaint of Frank Vail, 5608 South Michigan avenue.

Mrs. Tomson terms herself the "greatest psychic for full form manifestation," and during the trial of "Patty" Arbuckle asserted she "materialized" Virginia Rappe, in connection with whose death Arbuckle was tried. For four years she and her husband have conducted the International Research society, Mrs. Tomson claims to have conducted seances for Oliver Lodge, Conan Doyle, and other famous believers.

Both were released on cash bonds.

NEW DRY CHIEF

ROSCE C. ANDREWS.

Roscoe C. Andrews, newly appointed prohibition director of Illinois, has had a great deal of experience, which will stand him in good stead in his new position. He has been an assistant United States district attorney, assigned chiefly to liquor cases, and many pending prosecutions have grown out of evidence present to the grand jury under his direction. Later he became chief legal adviser of the prohibition department of Illinois and first assistant prohibition director, a position which led to his present appointment.

2D DRY AGENT IN KENTUCKY SLAIN BY MOONSHINERS

Frenchburg, Ky., Dec. 10.—(Special.)—Dave Treadway, member of a posse of federal and state officers, which penetrated the mountains of Menefee county today, in pursuit of a band of moonshiners who slew Federal Prohibition Agent Robert E. Duff Saturday afternoon, was shot and killed, supposedly by a member of the outlaw band, early this afternoon. Treadway was shot with a high powered rifle equipped with a silencer, or by some one so far away that the report was not heard by the slain man's companions. When slain he was carrying a machine gun.

At least thirty men are in the posse, including about fifteen federal officers. Chief Agent U. G. McFarland, one of the oldest moonshiner raiders in point of service, heads the posse, which carried automatic rifles, pistols and shotguns.

The region is honeycombed with rock caves and it is believed the desperado gang is entrenched in these caverns. In such a case it would require a regiment to force the outlaws into the open unless they could be smoked out.

All Funds Gone, Borrows

$147,210 for Election Pay

Plans for the payment of judges and clerks of election immediately after the constitutional election tomorrow were completed yesterday by County Treasurer Patrick J. Carr. Because of the fact that funds appropriated by the county board for election purposes had been exhausted, Mr. Carr was given authority to borrow $147,210. This will be used to pay the judges and clerks for services both at tomorrow's election and for the election on Nov. 7.

Mrs. Tomson terms herself the "greatest psychic for full form manifestation," and during the trial of "Patty" Arbuckle asserted she "materialized" Virginia Rappe, in connection with whose death Arbuckle was tried. For four years she and her husband have conducted the International Research society, Mrs. Tomson claims to have conducted seances for Oliver Lodge, Conan Doyle, and other famous believers.

BITHER, ARNOLD SPEND A ROUTINE SUNDAY IN JAIL

While two former members of the school board were spending a somewhat uneventful Sunday behind the bars of the county jail yesterday under sentence for contempt of court, deputy sheriffs were searching for Truette Albert H. Severinghaus, the last of the "old board" under sentence in the jail, to put him in a cell.

At a late hour last night it was reported by Sheriff Peter Hoffman that Mr. Severinghaus still was apparently on the "duck hunting trip" on which he was reported to have gone several days ago. Inquiries at his home failed to show his presence in the city.

A report that Mr. Severinghaus intends to give himself up at the jail within a day or so was current yesterday. Attaches of the jail stated that a cell was awaiting the man whenever he wished to "come in."

George B. Arnold, former school board trustee, and William A. Bither, former attorney for the board, went through the regular routine of prison life during the day.

Arnold spent most of the day in his cell reading while Bither engaged in conversation with other prisoners near by. Both men spent their hour in the "bull pen" with the other prisoners but kept to themselves. They also attended church services in the morning. No visitors were allowed to see them.

Bither will complete his five day sentence at midnight Tuesday. Arnold came in the jail late Saturday night and was released last night at 11:30 o'clock, 30 minutes before the time set for expiration of his two day sentence.

Assistant State's Attorney Samuel M. Hamilton announced yesterday that no was ready to go ahead on Monday morning with the case against the board members for conspiracy to defraud. The case was held up by Judge Jacob Hopkins on Saturday and he can decide on the motion of C. C. LeForge, attorney for Bither, to have the case against his client dismissed.

Mr. LeForge maintains that certain property alleged to have been sold by Charles A. White to the board of education was in reality sold to the city of Chicago which now holds a deed to the same. This property is one of the issues of the case.

Vote YES and Illinois will have the best Constitution in the Union.—Adv.

FIGHT ON SUBSIDY BILL TO BE LONG WITH CLOSE VOTE

Senate Measure Satisfactory to Harding.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.) Washington, D. C., Dec. 10.—[Special.]—With all the preliminaries disposed of the senate will settle down this week to a long drawn out fight over the ship subsidy bill.

Debate on the bill, which was reported yesterday from the committee on commerce, is to start tomorrow. Opponents of the measure will drag out the discussion as long as possible and there is no prospect of a vote before some time in January and possibly not until February.

Pass by Close Vote. Latest polls indicate that whenever the bill comes to a vote it will be passed by a margin of probably more than half a dozen votes. Whether the bill ever will become law then will depend upon the success of the threatened filibuster against the conference report during the closing days of the session before adjournment on March 4.

According to an analysis of the situation by the National Merchant Marine association the bill will be passed by the senate by a vote of 49 to 47 even if there are twelve Republicans against it and only two Democrats for it.

Lining Up the Senators. This association does not see any possibility of more than twelve Republican votes being cast against the bill and indicates that of the twelve four are doubtful and may vote for the bill.

There also are three additional Democrats that the association has some hope of enlisting among the supporters of the measure. The association regards the obstructionist tactics planned by the opposition as an admission that a majority of the senate is for the bill.

LABOR OPPOSES ADMINISTRATION SHIPPING BILL

Washington, D. C., Dec. 10.—Arguments of twelve labor union officials, either heads of international craft organizations or of state federations, opposing enactment of the administration shipping bill, were made public today by the American Federation of Labor.

The views were declared to be representative of a large number given to Samuel Gompers, president of the federation, and to "indicate a thorough understanding of the measure and a genuine apprehension of evil results in the event of its enactment into law."

G. W. Perkins, president of the cigar makers, said the government aid plan was "economically and financially unsound and perilously vicious." E. William Weeks, as secretary-treasurer of the Brotherhood of Railway Car Men, said the "very anxiety shown in forcing through the bill is evidence that something is contemplated at variance with the wishes of the people."

PERSONAL TAXES ON $130,000,000 UNPAID SIX YEARS

Council Inquires About $21,000,000 Loss.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

An average of $130,000,000 worth of personal property has escaped taxation in Cook county annually for the last six years, after the property has been officially found by the assessing bodies. All of this property has been officially certified by the board of assessors as existing, its owners designated, and an assessment placed against each piece of it.

The explanation is that the owners of this property do not pay and the officials, whose duty it is to collect, do not collect. The council finance committee, at the suggestion of Ald. A. O. Anderson, requested City Controller Harding yesterday to ascertain and report how much in personal property taxes has not been collected in each of the last five years.

Penalizes Those Who Pay. "Taxes are a necessary burden," explained the alderman, "and everything reasonably possible should be done to spread the burden fairly. Those who pay taxes without question are entitled to commendation. They should not be penalized because they are fair and honorable with their government. If some keep on paying and paying and others keep on dodging and dodging I cannot see why that does not place an extra burden upon those who pay. "To be sure, the city council has no jurisdiction over the assessment nor collection of taxes and has no responsibility in the premises, but the council does apportion taxes collected for the city between the various departments for expenditure. We have a moral obligation of giving those who do pay taxes any information which we can obtain on the subject. "We have no right to suppress information of vital concern to the taxpayers; that is the way I feel about it."

Paid by Only One-Seventh. The records indicate that more than $21,000,000 in personal property taxes has not been paid in the last six years. It further indicates that six-sevenths of those assessed for personal property taxes pay on the assessment. The other seventh does not pay.

The delinquent personal property taxes for each of the last six years are as follows:

1922	$5,100,000.00
1921	4,173,145.44
1920	3,900,653.15
1919	2,600,442.90
1918	2,570,554.50
1917	4,506,732.00
Total	$22,874,708.03

These taxes were assessed by the board of assessors; they were reviewed by the board of review, and also passed through the hands of the state board of equalization or the state tax commission. It is assumed that the property on which the taxes were levied actually existed in the ownership designated.

Would Mean Several Schools. If that amount of taxes had been collected there would have been no reason for the $3,000,000 bond issue of the city to pay current obligations, and there would now be no cry of the lack of $1,900,000 in revenue. If that had been collected, the county board would have no occasion to have borrowed millions of dollars on tax anticipation warrants. If that had been collected the $2,000,000 bond issue, authorized last week by the drainage board, could have been avoided. If that amount had been collected, several schoolhouses could have been erected.

TO ADD 28 GUARDS, GIVE PRISONERS MEALS AT TABLE

Appointment of twenty-eight additional guards at the county jail, recommended by Warden Wesley Westbrook, was approved by Sheriff Peter M. Hoffman in a letter to the county board, yesterday, in which he urged numerous improvements.

With the increased personnel, prisoners may be released from the cells at meal times to eat at tables, he said. Now, their food is shoved under the cell doors.

Because of cooperation of judges and county and city officials, Warden Westbrook announced, the jail population has fallen to 570, the lowest figure reached at this season since pre-war years. Betterment of jail conditions has created a new morale among the prisoners, he said, manifested in prisoner offered organizations on certain tiers of the jail.

SWISS FEAR BIG INVESTMENTS OF HUGO STINNES

GENEVA, Dec. 10.—The Swiss Republic union has addressed a demand to the federal council asking that an inquiry be made concerning German companies in which Hugo Stinnes has a controlling interest which are spreading in Switzerland. The union asserts Herr Stinnes already has invested 30,000,000 gold marks ($5,000,000) in Switzerland in order to escape taxation at home. It adds that this may endanger Swiss independence or at least give rise to international complications when the question of reparations is discussed at Brussels.

community." He said any money loaned by the state would have to be raised by taxation and, with loans now easily procurable at 5 1/2 per cent, it is not at all essential that the state enter the farm loan business. The "antis" have also pointed out the idea would be subject to two popular referendums which would possibly nail it in its tracks.

Challenge by Revell.

From the ratification camp Alexander H. Revell, a delegate to the constitutional convention, assailed the critics of the new draft.

"They cry 'principle,' these clamorous critics of the new constitution," said Mr. Revell, "yet where is their evidence of good faith? They make much ado over the matter of representation and insist that, regardless of its dominating size in Illinois, Chicago should be represented in both branches of the legislature at Springfield strictly according to population. So now they demand the defeat of the new constitution because under it Cook county could never have more than one-third of the members in the state senate, although in the house it would soon have a majority of the representatives."

"In this pretense of 'principle,' note how they overlook—willfully, of course—that the new constitution opens the door, and the only door, to cure the

BONUS QUERIES AND ANSWERS

Q.—Has a law been passed whereby the government pays a pension or bonus to widows whose husbands have been citizens here? I have heard nothing of it and would like to have the question answered to settle an argument.

A.—The widows of Illinois men who served in the war will be able to collect the Illinois state bonus. There is also a widow's pension which you may learn about by inquiring at the Juvenile court in the city hall.

Q.—I was living in Chicago at the time I went into the army, but gave my home address as Winfield, Kas. Will I receive the Illinois bonus, or should I apply in Kansas?—L. G. M.

A.—Your eligibility to the Illinois bonus depends on the length of time you resided in this state prior to enlistment. If you think you are entitled to the Kansas bonus, write for application blanks to the state bonus board, Topeka, Kas.

Q.—I went into the army on May 25, 1918, and served on five different fronts. Then, on Nov. 13, 1918, I went into the army of occupation. Do I get a bonus for time I spent in the army of occupation?—P. C. P.

A.—Yes, but the total amount of your bonus cannot exceed $300.

evils that are eating out Illinois' very heart. They also quite overlook the great benefit to Chicago in the grant of home rule, more than an offset to the restriction of representation in the state senate.

Stocks and Bonds Tax.

"And while these critics cry 'principle,' consider also how they insist on continuing under the present constitution the vicious tax system and turgid bureaucracy on the vital principle of just taxation in Illinois under the new constitution, whereby revenue for the state would be obtained from half of Illinois' present ten billion dollars' worth of property, the half that is now in stocks and bonds and other intangibles, virtually all escaping taxation under the present constitution, but which would have to pay its share of tax burdens in the income tax should the new constitution be adopted.

"Where are these critics on tax day? Dodging taxes on intangibles? Under the new constitution they must pay on incomes from intangibles. Why, then, their cry of 'principle,' when in fact they advertise their lack of principle and their obstruction of the road to progress and a just taxing system?"

Hamilton on Restriction.

Charles H. Hamilton, another leading delegate, dealing with "restriction" of Cook county, said, in part:

"Those who believe that representation according to population is a fundamental principle of government, from which nothing justifies a departure, might as well recognize now as at another time that the only way they are ever going to enforce their theory is by revolution. It can never come, and will never come in Illinois by orderly constitutional means. To the thirty-eight men from Cook county who struggled through the last convention and fought with great tenacity for Cook county's rights it seemed that this principle could be compromised with."

"The only sane conclusion for one who proposes to vote against the new constitution is that he and his children must remain content with things as they are or start a revolution."

Union League Divided.

From part of the Union League club yesterday came a declaration to the effect that the club itself had not gone on record for the new draft by a vote of the membership. The document was introduced in a leaflet prepared and distributed by the club's special committee and its public affairs committee.

The club itself, however, is said to be divided, just as most other organizations are, and the word went forth yesterday that some of the members are opposing the new draft quite as vigorously as others are supporting it. Add Christ A. Jensen of the Fourteenth ward and Ald. Thomas Caspers of the Forty-seventh, both opponents of the new draft, complained during the day that the other side is spreading word they are for ratification. "We both happened to be absent from Wednesday's council meeting, at which the draft was discussed, as we were at a funeral," said Ald. Jensen. "Now we are informed word is being spread that we are for the document, although we have consistently worked for its rejection."

Debate All Over State.

In many of the wards yesterday the Democratic organizations held meetings. Others will be held tonight. "Get out the vote," is the cry. Discussions and joint debates were still going on yesterday in several quarters, and there was a rush of citizens of more or less prominence with manuscripts available for printing. Most of them were written by men who had been in the army and on the last night weeks and the waste baskets last night were growing. Donald R. Richberg, for years a worker for forward legislation, in giving six reasons for voting "no" pulled the only new one. "In place of an improved bill of rights," he said, "we find a bill of wrongs. Instead of new reins of popular government we are offered a halter for democracy."

Today Anton J. Cernak, president of the county board, will put in a resolution at the board meeting urging the voters to "know it under."

The executive committee of the National Alliance of Bohemian Catholics at a meeting in the Levee State Bank building passed a resolution opposing the proposed new constitution.

FINAL LABOR PROTEST

Chicago wage earners, as represented at a mass meeting yesterday under the auspices of the Illinois and Chicago Federations of Labor, registered a final protest against the proposed new constitution.

The meeting was at Car Men's hall, Ashland avenue and Van Buren street. Victor A. Olander, secretary-treasurer of the Illinois Federation of Labor, was the chief speaker. "Some of the respectable gentlemen who are supporting this measure," said Mr. Olander, "may be surprised to learn that the Supreme court of our sister state of Michigan has declared a judicial dictatorship of the sort that would be set up in Illinois by the terms of this proposed basic law in only one country in the world—soviets Russia."

He urged workers to turn out in full force at the polls, speakers asserted the additional income tax burden contemplated by the proposed measure should be a sufficient spur.

RULES ON VOTE RIGHTS

Unregistered citizens who are otherwise qualified voters may swear in their vote tomorrow, by a declaration promulgated by the election board approved by County Judge

Jarecki. There has been no special registration day for the election on ratification or adoption of the proposed new constitution. The points set up by the board are:

[1] All persons who are registered in the precinct in which they now live are entitled to vote.

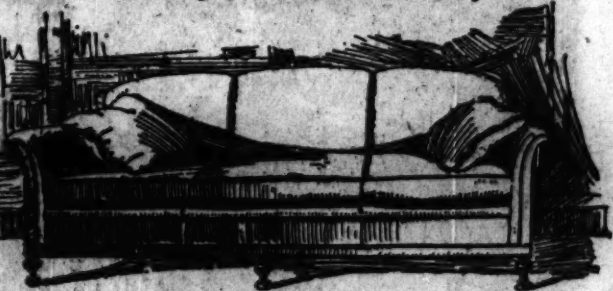

[2] All unregistered persons who are citizens of the United States; 21 years of age, and who have resided one year in the state, ninety days in Cook county and thirty days in the precinct next preceding Dec. 12, are legal voters. As such they are entitled to vote by affidavit, which affidavit must be supported by the affidavit of a registered voter and householder of the same precinct in which the applicant for a ballot resides.

[3] Women whose names have been changed by marriage since registering and who still reside within the precinct in which they registered, may vote by affidavit.

Don't Forget to Vote

U. S. JUSTIFIED IN KEEPING OUT OF LEAGUE: LEWIS

Ham Voted to Join; Now Becomes a Critic.

BY RAYMOND FENDRICK.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
PARIS, Dec. 10.—"I congratulate the American senate for rejecting the Versailles treaty covenants, though I voted for them myself," James Hamilton Lewis, former senator from Illinois, said today to THE TRIBUNE.

Mr. Lewis is now enroute back to Chicago to give the "once over" to the majority boom in his favor after a year of traveling in every part of Europe, where he represented American interests, and also Americans with private reparations claims. He has entirely recovered his health. He is going to London to look over the supreme council meeting there before sailing for America.

"America could not now adopt either the treaty or league of nations without violating pledges given her people when they went to war," he said. "The treaty of Versailles, as construed by European governments, is a mortgage which can be closed on any nation powerless to protect itself. Says England Controls League."

"The league of nations as it is now functioning has become an international trust of nations for mutual assistance in war territorial conquests. England appears to be the principal stockholder and chairman of the board of directors."

"If America had entered the league at the beginning her principles could have been dominated but now only events of the future could justify her in entering the league or confirming the Versailles peace treaty."

"The Lausanne conference has given of immediate war in the near east and Balkans. The strategy of the English, French, Italian, and American diplomats managing affairs at Lausanne cannot avoid war in the event of the conference failure or can they achieve peace so long as the Russian and Turkish positions remain as now pledged."

U. S. May Be Drawn In.
"If a conflict breaks out with the Russian and Russians against the European allies, it will involve the United States as a protecting force of American and Christian interests in Turkey and we will have a new world war. In such a movement Hungary will join in an effort to wrest from Roumania territory taken from Hungary. Russia will seize all her former territories, and all the Balkan states will take part to regain former possessions. As before the war, Germany will join Austria to provide a munitions supply for all these lands, and nothing but a

F. W. ELLIOT TO SERVE HORNER AS ASSISTANT

Frederick W. Elliott, attorney, whose building, has been appointed assistant to Probate Judge Henry Horner, in succession to William E. He-lander, now a Municipal judge. Mr. Elliott was a candidate for the Republican nomination for Municipal judge at the last primary, but was defeated.

Mr. Elliott has won the admiration of the legal profession and the friendship of hundreds through his practice in the courts, his backers say.

United effort of England, France, and Italy and their friends at Lausanne can avoid the danger now threatened by the possible failure of the Lausanne conference.

"The United States has not one sincere friend among the nations at the conference. No American interests can hope for any advantage while the United States is hated as a 'heartless creditor' or hated as a 'nation who asks for privileges but will grant no favors,' as is being done in Lausanne."

The United States needs its navy now as never before since the Spanish-American war. The disarmament conference at Washington should now be treated as a thing to be ignored by all the nations who were a party to it, and America should be on guard for her future, as all the other nations are building for their protection."

BALTIC STATES FIGHT TO AVOID CUT OF ARMIES

BY GEORGE SELDES.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright, 1922, By The Chicago Tribune.)

MOSCOW, Dec. 10.—[By Tribune Wireless.]—Pessimistic news from Lausanne hitherto had been partly counteracted by most favorable news from the Russian-Baltic states disarmament, but today the reports from the Moscow meeting were also gloomy.

The Russian press and officials blame British imperialism for the failure to make progress at Lausanne, and the Baltic nations' unwillingness to disarm for the failure of a speedy conclusion of the Moscow conference.

Russia, according to its diplomats, is doing its utmost, going more than half way, but the small powers, led by Poland, are holding up a successful disarmament treaty through their insistence that Russia's point nine demanding heavy reductions of armies be postponed, while a nonaggression pact be signed immediately.

Russia Fights for Disarmament.
It was learned today that M. Litvinoff, who heads the Russian delegation, is willing to waive the point, providing a commission remain sitting until eventually real disarmament is accomplished along Russia's borders, as well as in Russia.

Reports that Roumania has emphasized its abstention from the conference by instructing Prince Radzwill of Poland to do absolutely nothing as the Roumanian envoy but to keep his eyes open, has not improved the unfavorable impression Roumania made by refusing to discuss peace unless Bessarabia was previously given outright to Roumania.

See British-Russian Duel.

In Russian eyes, the Lausanne conference has reached a deadlock and there is a "duel" between imperialist England and Soviet Russia. The Russian press are tired of England considering Russia as "England's main enemy because it opposes England's near eastern ambitions." Again, emphasis is laid on the Asiatic situation, where it is claimed England now are putting their whole faith in Russia. This success with the Moslem world, which the Russians emphasize, is declared to have made Soviet Russia more dreaded by England than a Socialist Russia.

Ambassador Richard Washburn

Child's first declaration was favorably received by Moscow, but today's news that Mr. Child has declared America cannot be satisfied with the straits in control of Black sea peoples alone is causing doubts. Russia believes the control of the straits belongs only to Black sea peoples, with no mandate or international, some or other control other than commercial freedom to everybody at all times.

POPE TO CREATE 8 NEW PRINCES OF CHURCH TODAY

BY V. DE SANTO.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright, 1929, By The Chicago Tribune.)

ROME, Dec. 10.—(By Tribune Wireless.)—Eight more princes of the Roman Catholic church will be created tomorrow.

During a secret consistory, after the usual papal allocation, the pope will elevate an cardinal Mgr. Locatelli, papal nuncio at Lisbon; Mgr. Bonzano, former papal nuncio at Washington; Mgr. Tori, successor to the pope as archbishop of Milan; Mgr. Mori of the papal chancery; Mgr. Gharat, archbishop of Lille, who distinguished himself during the German occupation for his patriotic work and was decorated with the legion of honor; Mgr. Ronchi, famous for having succeeded in bringing about the sanctification of Joan of Arc; Archbishop Casanova of Tulose, Spain, and the Rev. Mr. Ehrle, a German, who for many years has been the Vatican librarian.

There will be one Italian, two French, one Spanish, and one German.
Mgr. Casanova and Locatelli are not present in Rome and will receive the red hat by proxy.

The actual presentation of the hat will be done respectively by the king of Spain to Mgr. Casanova and the president of the Portuguese republic to Mgr. Locatelli. Although Mgr. Locatelli is Italian, it is the ancient custom in Portugal for the head of the nation to present the red hat when a papal nuncio is elevated to the cardinalate.

After the election of the pope, the creation of cardinals is the most important and impressive ceremony of the Roman church. The secret consistory corresponds to the secret voting for the pope, and the public consistory, which will take place next Thursday, corresponds to the papal coronation.

Col. Roosevelt Boomed as Governor of New York

Jamestown, N. Y., Dec. 10.—(United Press.)—A boom to make Theodore Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, the next Republican governor of New York state was launched last night at the first annual gathering of the Old Guard association. Col. Roosevelt said in an interview that it was too early to comment upon the matter, but his conversation indicated that he aspired to some day becoming the gov-

New York, Dec. 10.—Americans can make sure of progress along the road to human perfection by preserving and stimulating their initiative and glorifying service as a part of the national character, says Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce in his book summarizing "American Individualism," just off the press.

Experience, in the backwash and misery of the war, he says, has strengthened his faith in American individualism, for America has been steadily developing the ideals that constitute progressive individualism.

"Americans," he writes, "are not tricked into the pretense that all men are equal in ability, character, intelligence and ambition. That was part of the claptrap of the French revolution!

Real Leadership Is Vital.

"If democracy is to secure its virtues in morals, religion and whiteness, it must stimulate leadership for its own masses."

Leadership, Mr. Hoover says, "cannot, no matter how brilliant, carry progress far ahead of the average of the mass of individual units."

Asserting that the economic development of the last half century has lifted the general standard of comfort far higher than the loftiest dreams of our forefathers, he says, "the only road to further advancement is greater invention, greater elimination of waste, greater production and better distribution of commodities and services, for,
by increasing their ratio to our numbers and dividing them justly, we will each have more of them."

Sorry Spectacle of Russia.

"The tragic fruit of the destruction of the impulse of the individual to production is now to be seen in Russia," he continues, "and our American demand for equality of opportunity is a constant militant check on capital, becoming a thing to be feared.

"The vast number of organizations formed during the last 30 years for the advancement of ideas in the community for mutual cooperation and economic objectives—mixtures of altruism and self interest—offer the opportunity to the individual for self-expression and participation in the making of ideas, a field for training, and the stepping stones to leadership."

Mr. Hoover believes the conflicts of these groups hold menace, for "if they develop into warring interests, if they dominate legislation and intimidate public officials, if they are to be a new setting for tyranny, then they will destroy the foundation of individualism."

How To Send Your Radiograms

1. Write your message for foreign countries or ships at sea on a Red Radiogram blank if available. If not, use the Postal telegram blank.

2. After the address, insert the route "Via RCA." No charge will be made for this insertion and it will insure your message going forward as a Radiogram at radio rates.

3. Use the same registered addresses and code books you now use. The regulations covering Radiograms and Cablegrams are the same.

4. Ring the Postal Telegraph call-box for a messenger; telephone your Radiogram, or if more convenient file it direct at the nearest RCA or Postal Telegraph office.

Radiogram tariff books and Red Radiogram blanks may be obtained at any Postal Telegraph or at any RCA office.

TRIBUNE SC

from being sent to the

TRIBUNE SCOOP ROILS BRAZIL'S CENSOR, POLICE

BY JOHN WHITE.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
MONTEVIDEO, Dec. 10.—Head over heels in debt and with its house in a state of confusion, Brazil has resorted to comic methods of censorship and secret police to prevent news of the country from reaching the outside world.

Not only newspaper correspondents and business men in Brazil are prevented from reporting news displeasing to the censorship but the censorship has been extended to cover messages passing through Brazil in transit from Argentina, Uruguay and other South American republics to the United States over a recently opened cable via Barbados Islands, despite the fact that this is a direct violation of international law.

Police Watch Reporter.

After successfully evading censorship for three months, getting through the only uncensored news reaching the United States from Brazil since July 1, I finally was put under such strict surveillance by the secret service that I no longer was a free agent and was compelled to choose either to leave Brazil, or to come to Montevideo, which is the closest uncensored cable terminus.

I was summoned before the censor to explain a cablegram sent to The Chicago Tribune from Buenos Aires and stopped by the censor when being relayed through Rio de Janeiro. I was ordered to appear before the chief of the secret service, where I was subjected to an hour of grilling regarding my supposed connection with revolutionists. I was paraded before a group of secret service agents and stool pigeons for identification purposes. I was shadowed wherever I went for several days. When I left Brazil four secret service men were on my trail trying to learn how I sent my last cable to The Tribune reporting the fighting in the streets of Rio between police and soldiers, sailors and marines.

Stop Cable at Rio.

Brazilian censors not only ignore treaty agreements and violating the secrecy of cablegraphic messages in transit, but in at least one case they actually stopped a message from Buenos Aires to Chicago, took it off the cables and supplied copies of it to the Brazilian police. They did not forward it to Chicago until eighteen hours later, and then only after the manager of the British cable company demanded that the message be allowed to go forward because retention of it was a violation of the St. Petersburg convention regarding international cable communications.

The message informed The Tribune of a secret code arrangement for announcing the outbreak of a predicted revolution in connection with President Elect Bernardes' inauguration.

The Chilean earthquake prevented

Buenos Aires from filing the message with the American west coast cable via Panama, and it was sent via the British cable via Brazil to connect with the Western Union Miami cable. The message was not signed, but provided that "John arrived" should be called to the correspondent in Rio de Janeiro when the cable reached Chicago. The censor was so excited at having discovered an attempt to evade his authority that he lost all self-control.

Cable Operator Busy.

It was not actually the censor who stopped The Tribune's message, but the cable operator of the Western Union Telegraph company who was relaying the Buenos Aires message on to the Barbados cable. This operator received the message from Buenos Aires at 10 p. m. on Nov. 17. Instead of putting it on to the Barbados cable, he halted its transmission, copied it on the customary delivery form, and held it until 3:45 o'clock on the morning of Nov. 18, when he delivered it to a particular censor, with whom he evidently was in collusion.

The censor maintains that he is watching everything on the cable, and he assured me that it would be impossible to get anything through from Argentina which he considered prejudicial to Brazilian interests.

Mr. White, Rebel.

One morning, at 10 o'clock, a member of the secret police, who had been following me, told me to report to Maj. Carlos Reis, chief of the secret police, at 11 o'clock. Maj. Reis had a copy of The Tribune's message, with a long report from the censor saying that a prearranged code arranged in such detail was arranged by a person who undoubtedly had knowledge of plans for a revolution. It took me an hour to convince him that I had not been in communication with revolutionists and that the code was designed only to get through censorship.

He then demanded the names of every person who had repeated the revolution rumor and demanded to know what ground I had for believing there might be a revolution.

SELLER TO MAKE NEW CHARGES IN DAUGHERTY CASE

High Crimes' to Be Added to Impeachment Hearing

Washington, D. C., Dec. 10.—Jack Keller, counsel for Representative Daugherty, who has announced impeachment charges against Attorney General Volstead, wrote today that he "may" be necessary to place before the committee additional charges of high crimes and misdemeanors.

Volstead said these charges might be of equal or greater importance than those contained in the fourteen charges recently filed with the committee, hearing on which will begin today the judiciary committee Tuesday.

Volstead's Letter.
In connection with Mr. Keller's letter, Mr. Keller made public a number of letters, including one from Volstead to Mr. Keller, saying that the committee desired to investigate all of the charges and wanted to know what witnesses were to be called in considering the first specifications relating to prosecution of anti-trust suits.

Mr. Volstead said this was necessary because as to some of the charges the committee may desire to hear you as to whether they are impeachable and incurring the expense of sending for witnesses to substantiate them.

On Appointment of Burns.
Referring to a conversation with the attorney, Mr. Keller said the former suggested that he was in doubt as to whether charges relating to the appointment of William J. Burns as chief of the department of justice, or of investigation, was an impeachable offense. Mr. Keller replied he could not personally conceive of any slightest room for doubt on the subject.

Mr. Keller complained to Mr. Volstead in writing about the failure of the committee to print the full report of the hearings at which he and Mr. Volstead appeared, demanding that it be printed to him "and to the nation."

SEANGHAI, China, Dec. 10.—John F. Stevens, president of the international technical railroad board of the Siberian railways, has sailed for America. This closes the final chapter of American operations in Russia and Siberia. Mr. Stevens, who is on his way to Washington to make a final report, says the Chinese eastern railway is now operated by a joint Russian-Chinese commission. The Bolsheviks are anxious to gain control, and have more than 30,000 well trained and equipped soldiers on the border of Manchuria.

MRS. HUCK URGES RELEASE OF ALL DISLOYALISTS

Washington, D. C., Dec. 10.—(Special.)—Mrs. Winifred Mason Huck (Rep., Ill.) was one of the speakers at an "amnesty" memorial meeting held here this afternoon under the auspices of the joint amnesty committee for Ricardo Flores Magon, a Mexican, who died recently in Leavenworth, while serving a twenty-one year sentence for treasonable and seditious utterances during the world war.

At the conclusion of the meeting, which was addressed by thirteen members of congress, including several of the Wisconsin delegation, resolutions were adopted urging the release before Christmas of all "the political prisoners," and were taken at once to the White House, a procession of about 500 sympathizers in the large audience marching with banners from the theater in which the meeting was held to the executive mansion.

Protest against the holding of the meeting was registered by Representative Lineberger (Rep., Cal.), in whose district Magon was convicted, and R. M. Whitney, director of the Washington bureau of the American Defense society.

—slogan helps to sell car

MR. M. of the M. Auto Sales Co. had made it a policy of his business never to run a Want Ad of over two lines in length. He ran the following ad without result:

JORDAN—1920, 4 PASS. SPORT, NEWLY painted, perf. condition; $875. Well, good.

A Tribune representative was finally able to persuade Mr. M. that his Want Ad was too poor in detail to attract many prospects, that what it needed was more specific information about the car advertised. Mr. M. finally consented to run the following:

JORDAN—1920, 4 PASS. SPORT, NEWLY painted, perf. condition; $875. Well, good.

When The Tribune representative checked up to find what results Mr. M. had received from the larger, more detailed Want Ad, he was told that the car had been sold the Sunday after the ad was run. Mr. M. now believes that "the more you tell, the quicker you sell."

THE Tribune has prepared a booklet "Writing a Want Ad to Make it Pay" which it will send free to anyone requesting it.

50,000 Face Cheerless Christmas

Yours Is Big Job, Enlist
Now, Mr. Goodfellow.

Two weeks from today will be Christmas.
Two more weeks—fourteen days—336 hours—20,160 minutes, and the happiest day of all the year will be at hand. The time is short, Mr. Good Fellow.

Because the time is short you must hurry. You must speed your sections or some 50,000 mothers and children in Chicago are going to be unhappy on the day of days, the time when their faces should be sparkling with smiles and their throats gurgling with laughter. You must hurry. You must hurry. You must think about this problem for a minute. You know the value of time. You know just exactly how much work can be crowded into an hour. You know how much can be accomplished rather can write in an hour. You know how many tons a truck can haul in a day. You know how many bonds can be sold in a day. You know the conditions in a week. In short, you know business.

Well, just figure that the Good Fellows of Chicago must plan and work so well during the short period of two weeks that not one of 50,000 individuals will be forgotten by Santa Claus. Consider the size of the task in Chicago. In just two weeks the organization must be perfected, the money gathered, the buying done, and finally the distribution accomplished. Try that in your own business, Mr. Good Fellow. Doesn't the size of the job almost shock you?

But it will be accomplished if you and you—and you—hurry into the Good Fellow Club in Chicago in this morning's paper and mail it post haste to the Good Fellow department at 7 South Dearborn street. The job is too big to allow for a waste of time. The boys go out into the slums of Chicago on their rounds looking for food, a bundle of clothes, a package of toys in your arms, you will be delighted. You are now wondering if it's worth while and if Christmas means anything to the poor. Well, you can't see the smile that comes over the faces of a poor kid when you hand him a toy automobile, you would understand. The kids expect Santa Claus to come; and the others are not so optimistic. But the kids don't know that you're not a scrape and have and skimp. They know that there is a Santa Claus and you're not going to let them be disappointed are you? Not by a jiffy.

The Good Fellow department received a donation from the yardmasters of the C. B. & Q. railway yesterday. It amounted to $26 and will make many a happy kiddy out of a boy who would have otherwise been disappointed.

The girls of Morris & Co. post of the Good Fellow Ladies sent word

The Good Fellow Legion sent word yesterday that they are going to break all records in taking care of families this year. They are sewing, knitting, and making clothes for kids during the noon hour and have contracted to care for ten families already. They form Post No. 3 of the Legion. Other posts

But. Good Fellows, your time is short. Just two more weeks. Hurry—hurry—clip the coupon and send it in or there will be thousands of disappointed kids on Christmas morning, just two weeks from today.

HARDING STAND PUTS RAILROAD PROBLEM IN AIR

No Substitute in Sight for Labor Board.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)
Washington, D. C., Dec. 10.—(Special.)—Condemnation by President Harding of the tripartite United States railroad labor board, coupled with the widespread disapproval of that tribunal existing in railroad labor as well as shipper circles, marks the beginning of the end of the board. It will not be replaced by anything else during the present session of congress, but it is deemed to suffer a major operation by the next congress.

A survey of the possibilities developing out of the President's recommendation for a nonpartisan, impartial tribunal, either independent or of a part of the interstate commerce commission, with power to enforce its findings, indicates little hope for the establishment of such a body as the President believes should be created to prevent tieup of the transportation system by strikes of railway employees.

"Labor" Stronger than Ever.
Organized labor will have many friends in the new congress—possibly not enough to force legislation advocated by labor leaders, but enough to prevent by obstructive tactics enactment of laws opposed by them. Organized labor defeated anti-strike legislation when the Esch-Cummins railroad law was passed and when congress had no such sprinkling of "progressives" as it will have after March 4.

The President's recommendation for solving the railroad labor problem will be contested. They will be opposed by the railroad brotherhoods and organized labor, led by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, on the ground that they involve compulsory acceptance of wage decisions and that organized labor cannot accept a tribunal composed only of so-called public representatives, as contrasted with a tribunal made up of employees and railroad managers.

Oppose Public Having a Voice.
What the railroad brotherhoods advocate is a board of mediation to which disputes that cannot be settled by the employees and the management can be referred. Any element of compulsion, they say, will be opposed. In a general way, Secretary of Labor Davis agrees with this viewpoint. A division of labor in the interstate commerce commission, with power to enforce its awards, would be as unacceptable as an independent body.

The President's recommendation in that regard will also confront opposition from citizens who do not see wisdom in giving a government tribunal the power to fix rates and wages.

LEGION NOTES

The Ravenswood post of the American Legion was one of the first of the Chicago posts to complete arrangements for aiding their community in getting in the bonus applications. The two branches of bonus application clearing houses will be operated in Ray's drug store, Ashland and Montrose avenues, every night and in the Ravenswood National bank on Saturday night. The stations will operate from 7:30 to 10 p. m.

Medical post has held its annual election at the Army and Navy club and chosen the following officers: Commander, Dr. P. J. H. Farrell; vice commander, Dr. Joseph E. Brown; finance officer, Dr. Louis Rudolph; chaplain, Dr. M. L. Black; sergeant at arms, Dr. H. J. Way. Directors: Drs. Joseph L. Miller, W. E. Balsinger, Channing Barrett, C. B. King, E. La Mothe, R. R. Duff, Joseph A. Caypa, George Rubin.

A joint meeting of Castle post and the Chicago chapter of the American Society of Military Engineers will be held Thursday night in the rooms of the Western Society of Engineers on the seventeenth floor of the Monastnock building. Brig. Gen. George van Horn Moseley, commanding general of the Sixth corps area headquarters, will speak.

Lawrence-Crawford post will select officers for the ensuing year at the post meeting tomorrow evening. This is the annual meeting of the post and all members are requested to attend and bring a new member.

All members and veterans of the 211th engineers' auxiliary are urged to be present at an auxiliary meeting to-night in 1124 County building.

Gen. George W. Crook post No. 434, Fort Sheridan, has elected the following officers for the coming year: Bernard Kehoe, commander; Frank R. Hubacher, vice commander; A. S. Thomas, adjutant; Fred W. Wiese, finance officer; James S. Adams, sergeant-at-arms.

Lake View post No. 186 will hold its annual meeting and election of officers this evening at Unity hall, 654 Barry avenue.

HIGH PRICES OF COAL BLAMED ON TOO MANY MINES

Industry Greatly Inflated, U. S. Commission Says.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)
Washington, D. C., Dec. 10.—(Special.)—Over development of the bituminous coal mining industry is one of the causes of present unsatisfactory conditions, President Harding's coal commission asserts in a statement issued today.

The commission says that the country needs not more coal mines but more work for mines now in existence. One reason for high prices, it is stated, is that the consumer is supporting a vast surplus of investment and capacity. It is urged that there should be no new investments in coal mining ventures under present conditions.

Waste on Large Scale.
"Too many soft coal mines and too many miners" is the way the commission describes the situation. "In these coal mines more capital is invested and more miners employed than are needed to produce the coal the country requires. This condition, of course, involves waste on a country-wide scale."

How great is the present inflation of the industry cannot be stated exactly at this time but unquestionably the inflation is excessive. Estimates of the excess mine capacity range from 20 to 75 per cent above the country's normal demand, which for the last five years has averaged about 510,000,000 tons a year.

Oppose Opening of New Mines.
"How to defuse the coal industry is one of many problems before the commission, and its reports may be expected to present facts bearing on this question. It seems plain enough, however, that the industry should not be further inflated by opening new mines. The facts already presented furnish a valid argument against continuing to enlist new capital in the business, thereby opening new mines that are worse than needed, for they further spread and thus overtax supply and shorten the possible working time of mines in the vicinity."

Uses Trunk as Lethal Chamber, Asphyxiates Self
New York, Dec. 10.—(Special.)—A third New York suicide today used a trunk as a lethal chamber. The man who did it today was Carl Honan, who asphyxiated himself.

Do You Spend One Month Of Every Year Traveling To And From Your Work?

GREAT numbers of people working in Chicago waste two hours on the street cars or the elevated every day traveling to and from their work. This is 600 hours, or almost one month of actual time out of every year. You can avoid this waste of time by finding a position near your home or by moving near your place of work.

Turn to the "Help Wanted" columns in the Want Ad Section of The Tribune. There you will find desirable positions open in your neighborhood. Or if you want to live where you work, read the Want Ads in the "Rooms For Rent," "Apartments For Rent" or "Houses For Rent" columns (depending on what you require).

IS love of music an evidence of "culture"? The gallery at the Auditorium any night makes sport of the idea, no matter what the bejeweled boxes say. Tony Milano and Mrs. Tony are there, in fifty-cent seats. The frowzy haired girl next to them is Kitty McDermot of the proletariat, who will never know the culture of a diamond collar.

No, love of music has nothing to do with what we call "culture." It is primitive and passionate, and often its highest development is found on the lowest rung of the social ladder.

And while the language of music is the language of all the world, the art of expressing true appreciation of music is rare indeed. Few musicians have the art, fewer still apply it.

Herman Devries, master musician, is also Herman Devries, master critic. He expresses profound knowledge of music with the grace of the master critic in his splendid descriptive reviews of music and the opera in the Evening American.

Writing exclusively for the Evening American, Mr. Devries has a following among music lovers in Chicago that is a tribute to his art and to his ability as a critic.

The New York Times

New York, Dec. 10.—[Special].—There are always some interesting movements in the financial markets during the last month of the year. At times they arise from the financial markets during the last month of the year. At times they arise from the tightening of the money market when a "business boom" reaches its climax around Christmas week. That influence has not been at work or in sight this December. But many other incidents of the period—the practical testing of the mood of consumers of merchandise, the making of inventories and the decision on dividends, the highly artificial adjusting of tax declarations, and, not least of all, the approach of the "year-end settlements" and the "January disturbances"—combine to push financial markets, now in one direction and now in another.

In this somewhat confused series of influences one can readily enough find the reason for the backing and filling of the present stock market, with speculators afraid of going too far in either direction. It will also possibly explain the strength of the commodity markets, in which the underlying demands have had to come in sight this month; the general upward tendency of investment securities, especially of the higher grade, and the signs of cautious but continuous accumulation of government bonds.

Foreign Exchange Rise Improved.

The present month, however, is not likely to be remembered for any of these financial movements, but of the continuing upward sweep of European exchange rates, which, during the last week, has given at least a reminder of some future economic possibilities of higher exchange rates. The general rise in the exchange rates, which, in addition to the remarkable advance of sterling, has brought the Swedish rate above parity and the Dutch rate practically to parity and which had already carried Swiss and Canadian exchange to a premium at New York, has been characterized by the Wall Street and London street exchange markets as a mystery.

Such mysteries have been common enough in foreign exchange, even before the war. Apparently they were described at the time as incomprehensible—as in the case of the movement of rates against New York in 1922, in 1924, and 1931—only to find that later economic history, which looked at the whole picture in perspective, pointed out that the course of exchange was only a perfectly logical part of a perfectly logical economic movement.

Movement at This Time Puzzling.

Just now the puzzle of the matter is that this rise of half a dozen European rates to the highest since the middle of 1918 has occurred at the moment when floating of new European bonds in the market has stopped, when European aid has paid $100,000,000 semi-annual interest to our treasury, when a short harvest is forcing continental Europe to buy increasing quantities of grain in the United States, and when congress has enacted a new tariff bill, meant to be largely prohibitive of imports from Europe. It is under these circumstances that sterling rose last week to $4.57, as against $4.45 when the tariff was passed, and that the gold premium at London has fallen to a per cent, or a smaller premium than was ever quoted in the United States outside the civil war inflation until 1917, or nearly twelve years after the war was over.

Large economic movements of this sort often follow the underlying logic of a world situation, overcoming in the long run temporary obstacles, and in the present case the underlying economic logic is unmistakable.

U. S. Bonds Nearly Half World Gold.

The United States holds nearly half of the world's gold. The Federal reserve banks reported on Thursday gold holdings nearly $1,000,000,000 larger than the amount required against their outstanding debts and circulation; a surplus of a reserve of 100 per cent. Decrease of $44,000,000 in such reserve gold holdings in the last eight weeks means that at least that much has been thrown into outside circulation as not needed by the reserve system—a reminder of Secretary Sherman's order to treasury agents in 1873 to most ordinary payments freely in gold because "gold was the basis of the money of the world."

When such a situation exists in one country while other countries are in urgent need of gold as a means of restoring their currencies to a normal status, outflow of gold is practically certain sooner or later to follow. It is the only conceivable outlet for the enormous gold surplus which has accumulated since the war in world finance and banking. It may be long delayed or it may come sooner than any one had expected, but in the long run it is the inevitable solution.

Present View from Simple.

The present, so far as we can see it now, is far from simple. In 1929 we exported $100,000,000 of gold, more than half of it went to the far east and the balance mostly to South America; thereafter it failed to give any help to Europe. Lately we sent even gold to Switzerland, which already has more than it needs, and to Canada, whose requirements are not great. The other countries whose New York exchange rates are best around the world are Britain and Sweden, neither of which central banks require gold for purposes of currency reform. Probably, therefore, distribution of our gold to the countries which will use it as a basis of currency reform is the most logical solution of the gold problem.

Chicago Opera Stars Sing Before Prisoners at Joliet—Cardinals Beat Bears, 9 to 0

CHICAGO OPERA STARS SING BEFORE 2,000 PRISONERS AT THE ILLINOIS STATE PRISON AT JOLIET. Mary McCormic, the "baby" of the Chicago Opera company stars, Desire Defrere, and Charles Quint, Miss McCormic's accompanist, motored to Joliet yesterday afternoon, where the two stars gave a special performance for the benefit of the prisoners. The picture shows the scene in the great dining room of the prison while Miss McCormic was singing for the state's charges.
